From June 18 - 21, the Rocky Mountain High School Football Program will hold its seventeenth annual Lobos Football Technique Camp. Designed for young athletes (ages 7-14) who want hands-on instruction in the game of football. This four day non-contact camp will focus on offensive and defensive fundamentals for each position. Broken into individual age groups with a player to coach ratio of 10:1, each participant will receive an introduction to techniques and drills and be coached by staff members and players of the Rocky Mountain Football Program. The daily camp schedule is planned around two practices (75 minutes each) with an emphasis on teaching, learning, and fun.
